Constitution
Memorandum & Regulations

6th Revision, Year 2025

1. HISTORICAL BACKGROUND OF PUBLIC HEALTH IN INDIA

The first seed of Public Health administration in India was sown in 1859, when Royal Commission was appointed by the then British Government to look into the causes of high morbidity and mortality among both army and civil populations. This Commission recommended appointment of Sanitary Commissioner in each province. Finally, health service was formed in India between 1896 and 1907. This gave further impetus to develop research laboratories and establishment of Indian Research Fund Association.

A few other landmarks in the development of Public Health services in India were:

1. The recommendation of the Govt. of India in 1912 to appoint Health officer in each district and municipality. This necessitated the arrangement of training in Public Health in India and its multidisciplinary status. Thus, the necessity of Public Health was accepted.
2. A special postgraduate diploma course, namely Diploma in Public Health (DPH) was started at the School of Tropical Medicine, Calcutta in 1920, the year of starting the school.
3. Establishment of a full-fledged institutes of Public Health - All India Institute of Hygiene and Public Health, Calcutta, under the magnificent grant of the Rockefeller Foundation of New York, to train medical graduates and various other categories of Health personnel.
4. Establishment of health survey and development committee by the Govt. of India, popularly known as the Bhole Committee, to prepare a plan for entire Health services in India.
5. Acceptance of the recommendation of the committee to introduce primary and subsidiary Health centres all over India as the most practical way of providing rural Health services in India.
6. The next important step was to appoint an Environmental Sanitation Committee, under the chairmanship of Dr. B.C. Dasgupta, Director of Health Services, West Bengal, in 1952.
7. Establishment of a Central Committee for control and eradication of Cholera and smallpox, under the auspices of the Indian Council of Medical Research in 1958.

2. HISTORICAL BACKGROUND OF INDIAN PUBLIC HEALTH ASSOCIATION

After the formation of Indian Public Health Association, its first meeting was inaugurated, on 29th September 1956, by the Union Health Minister Smt. Rajkumari Amrit Kaur, in the presence of large number of national and international dignitaries in the field of Public Health. The leaders of Public Health at that time, who paved the way of its success were Dr. B.C. Roy, Chief Minister of West Bengal, Lt. Col. C.K. Lakshmanan, Director, All India Institute of Hygiene and Public Health, Dr. K.C.K.E. Raja, Director General of Health Services, New Delhi, Dr. B.C. Dasgupta, Director of Health Services, West Bengal and Mr. T. Lakshminarayanan of Madras and others. Thereafter, the contributions of other reputed Public Health experts, like Dr. K.N. Rao, Prof. I.C. Tiwari, Prof. S.M. Marwah, Prof. N.S. Deodhar, Prof G. Anjaneyulu, Dr. Mahendra. Dutta, Dr. K.K. Dutta, Dr. P.K. Dutta, Prof. P.V. Sathe & many others for nurturing the Association can never be overstated; so was the untiring organizational effort of Dr. P.N. Khanna & Dr. S.P. Mukhopadhyay, as Secretary General of the Association from 1982 to 1984 and from 1986 to 1999 and President from 2000 to 2003.

PREAMBLE

In the context of historical development of Public Health in India, the need for local, state level & national forum of Public Health workers on pan India basis was strongly felt, not only for academic discussion on Public Health and orient the health functionaries about the new developments, but also to suggest measures for improvement of health services through the lessons learnt from sharing of experiences, as the concept of such an Association was first mooted out at the All India Institute of Hygiene and Public Health, Calcutta, in 1935 with an aim to look into the causes of high morbidity and mortality among both army and civil populations. That objective is still the first & foremost objective till this date & it gets the topmost priority for its existence and functioning and taking any decisions for its organization. But most of the health staff being under government or municipalities, permission of Government was necessary to create such an Association. This permission was denied until the Independence. So, the Institute had to remain satisfied with establishment of its Alumni Association only. After 1948, Dr. M.M. Ganguly and Dr. Srish Chandra Seal (Dr. S.C. Seal) (Organizing Secretary) renewed the movement and finally the INDIAN PUBLIC HEALTH ASSOCIATION was formed.

Eventually, a memorandum of the Association was prepared and the Association was duly registered. During last four decades, the Association had regularly organized conferences, seminars, CME etc. for its members, other professional organizations and Public Health personnel and also significantly contributed its expertise and assistance to the Govt. of India and State Governments for planning, implementation and evaluation of various public health programmes and control of emergencies. In order to facilitate its activities, certain modifications of the constitution were felt necessary from time to time. The suggestions were recorded and thorough revision of Constitution was recommended during the 29th Annual General Body of the Association (February 1985).

This amended constitution was taken and adopted on the 21st day of March, 2025 at KLE Convention Centre, Belagavi, Karnataka by the members of the Association present in the 69th Annual General Body Meeting.
